

RAILROADS TO ACCEPT DECISION

But Claim Methods of Retrenchment Will be Put in Force

MANY PLANS SUGGESTED

Believed That by Judicious Economies Contemplated Improvements Can be Made.

New York, Feb. 25.—With the belief gaining ground that the railroads will accept without further protest the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission prohibiting the increase of freight rates, there was general discussion today of what methods of retrenchment will be put into force to meet current financial obligations. Whether there would be a reduction of wages to the levels that prevailed before the recent increases was the question mostly concerning the thousands of railway men in the east. "The intention by President Baer of the Reading that the workmen 'might suffer' came as a complete surprise to the railroad men and there was a general disposition to resent the statement of the 'divine right' magnate.

"There can be no reduction of wages at this time," said one of the big labor leaders here today. "All of the eastern and most of the western systems have signed up with the various brotherhoods for a term of years. The Baer statement simply represents his opinion. If the railroads should violate their contracts, a thing I consider very unlikely, we would have the biggest railway strike in the history of the country. In as much as the railway officials realize this, and also that the public would blame them for trouble, there is little chance of anything of the kind happening."

It was generally accepted by the railway officials today that within a short time everything will be so adjusted that the roads will proceed on the even tenor of their ways. The companies will not earn any less money and by a judicious system of pruning it is believed all contemplated improvements can be carried out.

It is pointed out by the experts that the companies cannot permit their equipment or right of way to run down. In order to take care of the increased business, which everyone agrees will come with the summer months, the equipment will have to be kept up to the minute. What is looked for is a general going out for new business by the roads, with a consequent improvement of the service to shippers.

Until the general conference of the officials, attorneys and financiers of the eastern roads is held Monday it will not be known officially whether the companies will appeal to the courts to review the action of the commerce commission. If present sentiment continues unchanged, however, there will be no appeal.

One railroad man is pleased with the freight rate decision of Thursday. He is Sturges Fish, former president of the Illinois Central. He says:

"The railroads have reached a point where their operating expenses are not increasing out of proportion to their gross revenue. The decision has distinctly bettered the real owners of railroad shares who hold them for investments, by first settling a question which has caused railroad men to neglect their work to solve, second by stopping claims for higher wages, and third, in ending for a long time the claims of the shippers for a general rate reduction."

"The commission has gone on record as endorsing the existing rates as just."

DISASTROUS FIRE VISITS VILLAGE OF JERSEY IN THE WESTERN PART OF COUNTY

At a late hour Friday night the village of Jersey, in the western part of the county, between Summit Station and Jonestown, was visited by a fire which for a time threatened the entire destruction of the village. The fire started in T. A. Dickerson & Co.'s general store, and when discovered had gained considerably headway. In spite of every effort of volunteer fire fighters, who worked heroically, the building and store were totally destroyed, together with the barn and its contents, on the same lot. The horses were gotten out.

The fire rapidly spread to the furniture store of I. B. Williams, adjoining, and the contents of this store and the Odd Fellows' hall on the second floor, were damaged so that they are practically a total loss, while the building was totally destroyed.

Next to the furniture store is the hotel conducted by Mrs. C. W. Mead, a widow, and the damage here was principally to the furniture, some of which was taken out. The hotel barn was also destroyed.

The general store of W. H. Wilkins, across the street, caught fire from sparks and was also badly damaged as was the boarding house of Frank Harrison, on the same side of the street, but the fires in these places were extinguished with small losses. The entire loss, as nearly as can be estimated will probably exceed $15,000, which is partially covered by insurance, but the exact figures could not be obtained this afternoon, as the insurers have not yet been able to approximate their losses or the amounts of insurance.

SENATOR GREEN SUCCESSFUL WITH FILIBUSTER AND MEMBERS AGREED ON THE ADJOURNMENT

Columbus, Feb. 25.—Fighting for his fellow coal miners of Ohio, President Pro Tempore William Green of Co-schoeton carried his filibuster, begun Thursday, to a successful conclusion in the Senate. After five hours of vain struggle his opponents capitulated and agreed to an adjournment until next Monday afternoon.

The result of the protracted struggle is to leave the bill for which he is contending in precisely the same position that it occupied Thursday. His aim in the parliamentary battle was to prevent the interpolation of a hostile motion to reconsider the vote whereby it was defeated, the proposal failure to carry which would have killed it beyond hope of redemption.

Through the filibuster time was gained to rally expected strength for the measure, which lacks but one vote of a constitutional majority.

Vantage was won and maintained yesterday through the medium of refusing to pass upon a point of order conveniently raised by Senator John N. Stockwell of Cleveland, the aid-de-camp of the president pro tempore.

Under the pretext that he desired time to consider the question, Senator

Green paralyzed all action of the Senate, declaring that nothing was in order until a decision had been made.

Appeals and motions on the part of the angered opposition all failed, and even when 17 of the Senators signed a joint telegram to Lieutenant Governor Atlee Pomerene, now at Canton, asking him to return to the capital and assume the chair, he did not weaken. His position was impregnable.

Finally after a conference in the smoking room the enemies of the bill proposed an adjournment until 9 a. m. next Monday. This was refused. The friends of the bill wanted the hour 7:30 p. m. At last the compromise hour of 1:30 p. m. was suggested and accepted.

The bill over which the war is waging provides that coal miners shall be paid for all the material which they take out instead of the portion that passes over a lattice with bars one inch and a half apart, which is now the rule.

The mine owners assert that the change will drive them out of business, as they will not be able to compete with other localities having lower wages, better railway rates and the screen system.

FIGHT WILL BE CONTINUED

Washington, Feb. 25.—The fight for the direct election of senators practically killed for this session of the amendment to the Sutherland bill adopted yesterday, will go on in the next senate, according to Senator Borah. He says the battle has raged for many years and never before now was a bill reported out of committee in the senate. This he says, is a sign of some progress, however slight.

TONOPAH MINERS DIED OF SUFFOCATION

Tonopah, Feb. 25.—The task of identifying the bodies of the fifteen dead miners recovered from the Belmont mine began today. Identification in most cases was easy as all but four of the men died of suffocation. Four of the corpses were terribly mutilated. The four were found dead in the lowest levels of the mine, where the flames had evidently penetrated.

State Mine Inspector Ryan was unable to estimate today how many more if any remain in the mine, but he declared he believed there are no Americans in the depths. Bodies of six Americans have been recovered. The rest were Slavs.

CHINAMAN WAS FOUND MURDERED

Findlay, O., Feb. 25.—Chon Chung, known as Sam Kee, a laundryman, who was murdered here last night, was a victim of a Chinese feud, the police believe, after investigating the premises. Ninety dollars in cash was undiscovered, and the peculiar cut about the man's body points to vengeance as a motive.

Chon was shaved in a barber shop yesterday and told the barber of a quarrel with two strange Chinese who cannot be found.

HENRY KEPT THINGS MOVING

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—Within ten minutes Henry Kirkwood of Clayton, Mo., proposed marriage to both Mrs. Ruth Fenneman and her 18-year-old daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Crabtree, at their home in this city.

The daughter heard the proposal to her mother and heard her mother say "No," and was greatly surprised when the suitor turned to her and said, "Well, if your mother won't have me, maybe you will."

"No, indeed," said Mrs. Crabtree. "If you are not good enough for mamma, you are not good enough for me."

WOMAN FOUND DEAD AND BODY PARTLY BURNED

Zanesville, O., Feb. 25.—Miss Ida Duntling, 46, owner of an apartment and otherwise well off, was found on the floor of a dilapidated house on her farm near Sonora this morning.

Parts of her body were burned to a crisp. She went to the house on Tuesday to investigate a reported burglary there, and was last seen that evening talking to an unknown man. Neighbors became alarmed at her long absence and made an investigation today, which resulted in the discovery of the body.

DASHING BLONDE IN TROUSERS

Held Up Traffic in New York Friday
Afternoon

CREATED A SENSATION

As She Came Tripping Across the
Brooklyn Bridge—Parisians
Hurl Eggs.

New York, Feb. 25.—Attired in harem costume, that is wearing Turkish bloomers, well, anyway, bifurcated skirts or something, and some other regular clothes, a dashing blonde walked across the Brooklyn bridge to Manhattan yesterday afternoon, threaded her way through Park Row to Broadway and Fulton street, and disappeared into the Hudson Terminal.

About 687,811 persons, more or less, fought to get a look at her. Traffic was blocked. Croppsey's Cossacks rode up and down, breaking out a lane for the vision, casting a cautious glance the while. Several near-riots were narrowly averted.

The special procession dawned on a startled public on the Brooklyn bridge promenade. She was young, with blonde hair and blue eyes. She is reported to have worn a hat, though one of the hundreds questioned could swear positively to that. They also realized in a vague way that she wore a black fur coat, a blue skirt, or rather two skirts, one fore, the other aft, and split on the right and left sides, the skirts reaching to just below the knees. As for her garments, which broke up Bernstein's latest play in Paris, appeared below. All are unanimous about this fact.

Incidentally she wore black silk stockings and black shoes. The duplicate garments were secured around the ankle, just like those worn by the harem beauties for the Orient. The color was black. They were baggy.

Arriving at the Manhattan Terminal the young woman carefully picked her way through the maze of trolley car loops. Escapes from instant death or accident were many, as crowds of men, abandoning the trolley to their worst, gazed at the very newest style. By the time she reached Park Row the young woman had to fight her way through the crowd.

By the time she reached the post-office there was a large throng following as though she had been at an international wedding. The mounted traffic squad men formed an escort and cleared the way as they marched to Broadway. All they needed was a brass band. At Fulton street the demonstrator of the latest fashion hint from Paris turned and disappeared toward the Hudson Terminal.

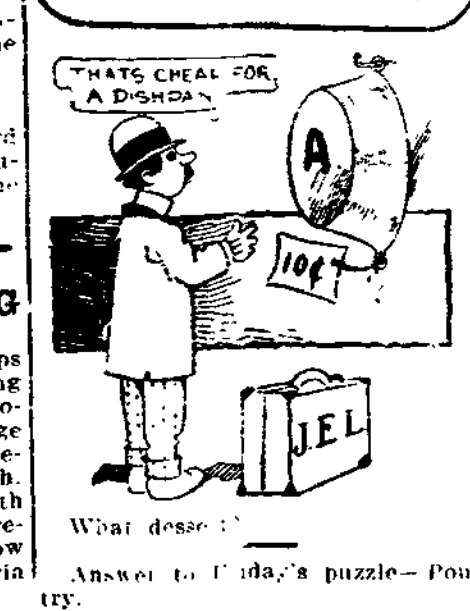

There were those who thought she might have been a show girl.

TROUSERS SKIRT WEARERS WERE PELTED WITH EGGS.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Incidents of public disturbance, accompanying the appearance in the streets of women wearing the trousers-skirt, occurred yesterday. The Avenue de l'Opera was the scene of one of the more serious outbreaks.

The woman, having been surrounded by a laughing, jeering crowd, was unable to proceed and a man, taking advantage of the situation, purchased a basket of eggs from a dealer in a side street and distributed them among the other men, who in order to show their disapproval of what they considered unladylike conduct, pelted the helpless wearer of the new (Continued on Page 10, Col. 3.)

GENERAL PROSPERITY IN THE STATES CAUSES GOLD SLUMP IN ALASKA

GOLD MINERS at WORK at a SLUICE.

THE MAIN STREET OF NOME, ALASKA.

The gold production of Alaska has shown an appreciable falling off. This is due, not to politics, but to the prosperous condition of the states in general and the resultant decrease in the number of persons going to the territory.

"Alaska produced last year close to $2,000,000 less gold than in 1909," says H. M. Behrens, a banker of Juneau, "but this was due, in my opinion, not to a cessation of activity or to politics, but to the general prosperity in the states. When times get rich men begin to think about moving to other territory than where

HABEAS CORPUS CASE DROPPED AND PRISONER GOES BACK TO NEW YORK

Romeo Mangotti, the Italian baker who was arrested several days ago by the local police, upon advice contained in a letter from Inspector Russell, of the New York detective bureau, received by Chief Hindel, was taken back to that city by Officer Thomas C. Considine, who came from the metropolis for that purpose. They left on the Pennsylvania at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mangotti, who went by the name of Emeo Bianco, during his three years' residence in Newark, on Friday assumed habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Robbins Hunter, when came up for hearing in probate court at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and it was upon the outcome of this action that the officers awaited before taking any further action towards removing the prisoner from Newark.

He was present at the appointed hour, as was also Officer Considine, and a large number of curious, including many Italians. Mangotti, who speaks a bad English, informed the court that he was willing to return to New York with the officer. There being no desire to fight the case on his part there was nothing to do but let the case and the prisoner go into the hands of Turnkey Charles Hager, who had been made respondent, and both were technically in the custody of Sheriff Slabaugh. This put Mangotti in statu quo, and by his action waived no rights he had as far as existing requisition, but he decided not to press this point and voluntarily went back with the officer.

As has been told before the Italian is wanted in New York for the murder of a fellow countryman whom he shot five times, while the man was walking along the street with his four-year-old daughter.

Beautiful Diva Says Its Lucky She
Has Her Art to Support
Her.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—"It is a blessing that I have my art, which provides the means to maintain me, for he has nothing but debts," explained Mme. Cavaleri with philosophic resignation to the New York World correspondent who called upon her to inquire about the terms of the settlement she is reported to have made with Robert Winthrop Chanler.

Throughout the half hour's animated conversation Mme. Cavaleri invariably referred to her husband as "he," never speaking his Christian name nor even his surname.

"Perhaps he will be found to be irresponsible; perhaps he will be put in an asylum," she continued. "I see no likelihood of any settlement except divorce, for I must regulate my position. My affairs are in the hands of lawyers, and they inform me that there is no prospect of a settlement. I have always heard that Americans make good, loyal husbands, but I myself made a bad bargain. Unhappily, my marriage from the first was a complete misunderstanding. As Mme. Cavaleri said this she made a gesture of impatience.

The famous singer, looking wonderfully beautiful, was found in an apartment overlooking the snowed square in which stands St. Isaac's cathedral. She was studying the role she will create in Paris next spring in a new opera, "Gironda."

Her gown was of the Liberty pattern, crowned with a magnificent pearl necklace, and a blue ribbon bound her black hair.

"I still feel the effects of last summer's attack of appendicitis in Paris and the distress of my marriage misunderstanding, but happily this lassitude does not cause the slightest injury to my voice. I have sung six times this season in opera in St. Petersburg and have given three concerts. I go to bed at 10:30 o'clock nights when I am not singing."

"I certainly shall go to Boston next winter, and perhaps to New York."

Closing the interview, Mme. Cavaleri turned to a fashion paper and pointing to a picture of the new harem skirt asked, "What do you think of this?"

She answered her own question by observing that with a tunic she believed she would like it much.

BOB CHANLER BACK FROM BERMUDA TRIP.

Robert W. Chanler, the husband of Lina Cavaleri, arrived last night on the steamship Trent from Bermuda. The former sheriff of Dutchess county had gone to the island under the name of Roger Clark.

When asked about his marriage affairs Mr. Chanler said:

"If you don't stop talking to me about my affairs I shall have to leave my baggage on the pier and go away."

On the Trent was also Miss Landon Rives, a relative of Amelie Rives Chanler, who became the Princess Troubetzkoy after she had been the wife of Robert W. Chanler's brother, John Armstrong Chanler. Miss Rives was met by Prince Troubetzkoy.

When Robert W. Chanler heard that Prince Troubetzkoy was on the pier he said:

"Let's get out of here as soon as possible."

He jumped into a taxi and as he hastened away he said he didn't know where Lina Cavaleri was at present and didn't care so long as he wasn't forced to meet her.

WEDDINGS

MOWERY EATON

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Marie Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eaton of East Wheeling avenue, to M. Dill Mowery, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mowery of Circleville, Ohio. Attended by Messrs. Will and Wilbur Deane and Misses Gladys Webb of Pittsburg and Caroline Triem, they went to the parsonage of Rev. C. N. Church, pastor of the First M. E. church, North Seventh street, where the ceremony was read at 7:30 o'clock. The bride was attractively dressed in a handsome traveling suit of gray with a hat to match, trimmed in a coral colored willow ponpon. She wore white furs. The bridal party, joined by Mr. Will McCartney and his mother, Mrs. W. S. McCartney, formed a theatre party to see Henry Woodruff in "The Genius" which was presented at the Colonial theatre. They then went to their home, No. 235 North Seventh street, which was in readiness for them and an elaborate three course dinner was served and covers were laid for Messrs. Orm and Misses Webb and Triem and the bride and groom. Mrs. Mowery is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eaton and is a member of the younger social set having a large circle of friends here. Mr. Mowery is a graduate of the Evers high school of Circleville, class of '06, and since November '08, has been employed as agent of the Adams Express company of this city. He has made many friends who will join in wishing them both much happiness. A number of social affairs will be given in their honor. On Saturday afternoon Miss Ruth Rockhill will entertain a number of girl friends in honor of the bride. These promise to be enjoyable affairs.---Cambridge Jeffersonian.

Mrs. Mowery is a cousin of Mrs. T. J. Daly of this city and has on many occasions been her house guest at her home in Hudson avenue. While visiting here Mrs. Mowery made a number of friends who will be interested to hear of her marriage.

FRANK BARNES

Of Baltimore, Maryland, Formerly Light Harness Trainer, to Locate in Utica, Ohio.

Frank Barnes, for many years one of the leading light-harness trainers of this section, will pull up stakes tomorrow, shake the dust of Baltimore from his feet, and migrate to Utica, a thriving town in the center of the natural gas region of Ohio.

Mr. Barnes has received a flattering offer from W. E. Vance, a leading business and hotel man of Utica, to take charge of a bowling and pool establishment in the Ohio town and for the time being at least will give up the horse business.

Twenty years ago Trainer Barnes came to Baltimore and ever since has been actively engaged in handling trotters and pacers. He is considered one of the best conditioners of the light harness horse in this state, and as a driver has few equals anywhere. He has a peculiar facility of getting the last ounce out of a horse, and his finishes are quite as celebrated as those of Snapper Garrison in the thoroughbred line.

Moreover, Mr. Barnes has achieved a reputation of always driving to win, and his services are in demand when the judges think a new driver is needed behind a horse in a race which shows symptoms of crookedness.

During his twenty years' services in Maryland Mr. Barnes has made much turf history and has given more horses records than any other dozen trainers.

Mr. Barnes said this morning that if he could stand indoor life he would give up training horses altogether, but he incidentally remarked that his employer, Mr. Vance, had a stable of four or five good ones, so that it is not at all improbable that the call of the turf may prove too strong after the newness of the pool and bowling business has worn off.---Baltimore, Md., News.

WOMEN CAN MAKE EYES COURT RULES

Wilkes-Barre, Feb. 25.--There is no law to prevent a woman with pretty eyes using them in any way that she likes. Alderman John F. Donohue has decided.

Miss Marion Chappelle of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has been visiting friends in Kingston, near here, and who is known among the young men there as "the girl with the laughing eyes," has been arrested at the instance of Mrs. Annie Ludlow, who was annoyed because her young son, Henry, had fallen under their spell.

Mrs. Ludlow had met Miss Chappelle on the street and asked her to stop using her eyes to attract young men, and particularly Henry, and when the girl laughed at her Mrs. Ludlow had her arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Alderman Donohue, after a look at the girl's eyes, discharged Miss Chappelle.

"We are really glad to have such a captivating person in the community," he said, gallantly. "It is no crime for a woman to have pretty eyes and to use them, and there is no law to govern the use of such eyes."

TREE PRUNING TIME IS DRAWING NEAR

"During the dormant season is the time to prune your trees if you wish to promote their growth," says Prof. Surface, state zoologist of Pennsylvania, in a bulletin just issued. He further adds that the first treatment of a tree infested with San Jose scale or any other serious pest, should be to prune in accordance with the severity of the injury.

"It makes no difference what has caused the damage to the tree," says Professor Surface. "It should be laid down to the general rule to prune back the top in accordance with the amount of injury from which the tree has suffered. When a tree has been attacked by scale it is injured much worse than its outward appearance would indicate, and the pruning should consequently be very severe."

Prof. Surface advised that to insure best results from pruning a branch it should always be cut just above a living branch that is to remain, and with the slope of the cut in the same direction as the surface of the remaining branch. The surface of the cut stub can then be painted with ordinary oil paint. The best material to use is pure white lead and raw linseed oil. The pruning can be done at any time during the dormant season or before the buds burst.

BAN PLACED ON HAREM SKIRT BY POPE PIUS X.

Rome, Feb. 21.--Pope Pius X yesterday placed his ban on the "harem" skirt. The Observatore Romano, the Vatican organ, says that the Pope "strongly disapproves of the 'harem' skirt, because it is calculated to diminish the wearer's self-respect and to abolish sex distinctions."

The paper says that wearers of the skirt will be excluded from all Catholic churches.

garment until a squad of police intervened and helped the woman to escape in an automobile.

Doubts appear to have arisen among the leading Paris dressmakers as to whether the skirt will be adopted by women as a general fashion. But few have been ordered thus far, and these have gone chiefly to women from abroad, who were shopping here and wished to take home the latest sensation. Many models have been sent to prominent houses dealing in women's wear in New York.

The journals publish medical opinions on the new style. Some aver that the wide trousers afford the wearers freer movement in walking and, furnishing less resistance to the winds, are to be recommended from the standpoint of good health.

Other opinions to the contrary are expressed. Prof. Debove, formerly dean of the Academy of Medicine, affirms in the Matin that women are not adapted for such garments.

MADRID MOB SURROUNDED WOMEN IN TROUSERS-SKIRTS

Madrid, Feb. 25.--Two women belonging to the most exclusive society circles of the capital appeared on the streets last evening, wearing the new Parisian trousers-skirts and were fairly mobbed. The crowd, which grew rapidly to great proportions surrounded them and, after insulting cries, threatened violence. A large force of police came to the protection of the women and cleared the streets. The police administration has dealt with several similar cases of disorder recently and it is determined to put a stop to the rowdiness.

Flanders "20"

This Remarkable Endurance Feat Has Demonstrated That High Prices
Do Not Guarantee Quality—For This World-Beating Car Sells for $700

On December 2nd, in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., a stock model Flanders "20," Suburban type, was sent upon its epoch-making journey.

Carrying the full complement of four passengers, this phenomenal car, day and night, week after week, rolled off the miles.

On December 28th, the Flanders "20" completed 10,074.4 miles and another engineering and endurance triumph was given into the safe keeping of the E-M-F Company.

Every yard of the way and every minute, representatives of the Automobile Club of Southern California, also enthusiastic and competent motorists kept strict watch. Affidavits are now in the E-M-F Company's possession.

On the night of December 30th, after covering 10,872 miles, the car slipped into a treacherous street excavation and this most marvelous motoring feat came to an end.

BUT—the most important fact of all was—

WHAT THE MOTOR REVEALED

Immediately, the car was taken to the Los Angeles Automobile Show and there the chassis was subjected by experts to the most rigid examination. THEY WERE AMAZED AT WHAT THEY SAW. Despite the gruelling test there were

NO SIGNS OF WEAR

The car was ready to go out at a moment's notice for another 10,000 miles. Again the E-M-F Company had proved what 20,000 owners of their automobiles know—that this Company builds the world's record-breaking LOWEST PRICE AND

HIGHEST QUALITY CARS.

To own a Flanders "20" or an E-M-F "30" is a warrant of absolute supremacy in design, materials and workmanship.

Production in immense quantities by automatic machinery, insures perfection of engineering construction; every part made and tested in the E-M-F Company's plants, together with distribution of cost over this unlimited production, has made the price possible.

It places a car of surpassing durability within the reach of the most moderate income. A car any man will be proud to own, backed by a most liberal service insurance.

Here is the Enduring Car, the Efficient Car, the Economical Car, the Car That Will Create Record-Breaking Sales

73,000 MILES A RECORD BY AN E-M-F "30" "And Still Running"

You are a thoughtful man, about to select a motor car. You're bottling away in your brain an array of questions that must be satisfactorily answered by the representative of the manufacturer whose product you're going to buy. The most important of these questions is this one: "How long will it last?"

You will experience some trouble, my friend, in securing satisfactory answers to questions that concern the life of a Motor Car.

The lives of some motor cars, handsome and apparently capable, are exceedingly short. The men who sell them are clever enough to obscure the fact as best they can. On the other hand, the salesman who has a car of quality—a car like the E-M-F "30"—is flatly unable to tell you how long this car will live. No E-M-F "30" has ever been worn out, and we can prove it.

But the E-M-F "30" salesman can give you some very interesting information, nevertheless.

He will tell you that the average motorist asks his car for 5,000 miles each year, and that his rate of speed approximates eighteen miles per hour—a fact of which you are probably aware. He will add the engineering axiom that 200 miles at extreme speed causes a car to deteriorate as much as a season of normal use. If you understand mechanics, you will admit this fact.

THEN THE SALESMAN WILL TELL YOU THAT AN E-M-F "30" HAS TRAVELED OVER 73,000 MILES, COVERING MORE THAN HALF OF THIS DISTANCE AT A RATE OF FROM 50 TO 70 MILES AN HOUR.

To condense into two calendar years the wear and tear incident to 15 seasons in the hands of the average motorist is the singular fortune to which the "Bullet"—E-M-F "30" No. 9—fell heir. A member of the first day's output of the E-M-F Company, "Bullet" became, December 8, 1908, the demonstrator of the E-M-F Atlanta Company. Every day's work included a round trip at speed over the 86 miles between the garage and the home of the Company's manager. Demonstration, pathfinding, pioneer work and racing rounded out the program and "Bullet" knew no rest. The car became the sole medium of the most successful band of cup-hunters in Georgia. The season lasted the year round.

In such conditions, "Bullet's" mileage ascended by leaps and bounds. The first speedometer rolled off its limit—9999.9 miles—and a second speedometer lasted no longer. Then an instrument with a capacity of 100,000 miles was installed. That one now registers more than 53,000 miles. The public was interested in "Bullet," and non-partisan observers checked her mileage so often that there can be no disputing the records. "Bullet's" trophies, won on the road, track, hill and speedway, are as eloquent as her speedometers.

"Bullet" will be on view this winter, all around the circuit of the big automobile shows. The E-M-F Company is entering no claim for a mythical car nor making a statement that cannot be proven. It's the same Old "Bullet" that left the factory more than two years ago. The red paint that featured the first consignments of the E-M-F "30" still clings to body, hood, frame and wheels. The same mechanical equipment is still in position. And "Bullet" is ready now, as ever for the racing body and a frolic at 65 miles an hour.

Beside "Bullet"—E-M-F "30" No. 9—stands, in the E-M-F Company's show space, a motor car which represents the last word in 1911 design, materials and workmanship. It is E-M-F "30" No. 19811. These two cars afford an excellent chance for comparison.

Look them over. You will find the process enlightening. Eliminate the refinements in detail, possessed by the new car; straighten out its graceful lines into "Bullet's" more severe contours. Get down to essentials. What do you find?

THE NEW CAR—THE THOUSAND DOLLAR BEAUTY—IS ONLY "BULLET" OVER AGAIN.

Yes, the mold that made "Bullet" is still in use. It is merely a bigger mold, a better mold, and it is making better "Bullets." There has been but one model of the E-M-F "30" from the first. To build that one model well, and then to build it better has been the sole endeavor of the E-M-F Company. Refinements, perfections, improvements—term them what you will—have changed that model much in appearance, but not one particle in essentials. Friction eliminating devices have increased speed and endurance. Heat-treatment of steels and systematic advance in manufacturing science have added strength. The E-M-F "30" No. 19811 is merely an idealization of E-M-F "30" No. 9—Good Old "Bullet."

"Bullet's" old selling price was $1250. But "Bullet" and her kind have enabled the E-M-F Company to pay for its plants. Lowered the cost of raw material and tires has further decreased the expense of production. Now, you can buy the 1911 E-M-F "30" for $1000—the Quality Car at the Low Record Price—a far better car than "Bullet," the automobile that has lived for fifteen years of service and is still young.

When "Bullet" was new, the 90-day guarantee was considered liberal. With most manufacturers it remains in vogue today. But the firm that builds a car to stand up for fifteen years of service, can do better. Every 1911 E-M-F "30" is guaranteed for a year and the guarantee bond includes equipment as well, tires only excepted.

It will be impossible in 1911, for competitors to evade E-M-F Company arguments. By no means the least of these is the undisputed fact that an E-M-F "30" stands alone, at the head of cars of its type with an endurance record of more than 73,000 miles.

We have proved to you that the E-M-F "30" is built to last, and at a price that will save you anywhere from $500 to $1000. Over 20,000 owners stand pat on this car. This is the "Why" you should "Buy" an E-M-F "30."

A detailed record of "Bullet's" life has been compiled in interesting form. Write the E-M-F Company, Detroit, Mich., and ask for the "Autobiography of an Automobile."

Cleveland hall of Denison University at Granville was the scene of the annual Washington banquet given by the Seniors of the college, and was a dazzling and most brilliant success. The Washington banquet is a feature of college life, that is looked forward from year to another by the students with fond anticipation. Friday night the friends of the Seniors and of the college turned out to the banquet in larger numbers than they have for years, and many alumni from all parts of the country were present. The ladies of the Baptist church and the banquet in charge this year and they were the recipients of many congratulations on the success they made of it. Not only was the banquet gotten up in a style never before attempted but the decorations were the most beautiful. These latter consisted of a huge tree made to represent a cherry tree, loaded with pink blossoms, while all over the hall were pink cherry blossoms, the whole giving a very pretty effect. A beautiful narcissus flower lay at each place, together with a hand painted place card on which was a beautiful representation of a cherry branch. Shortly before seven o'clock the large assemblage took their places at the banquet tables to beautiful music furnished by Carl A-horn's orchestra, and music was rendered throughout the evening by this orchestra. The service was the best; had in years and everybody highly praised it, and the committee having it in charge.

The menu was as follows:

HEART and HOME TALKS

Confessions of a Young Housekeeper

by Barbara Boyd

The Housekeeping of the Future.

UCH changes are coming about in regard to woman's work and her methods of living that one is apt to look ahead and wonder what will happen to her one-time especial field, housekeeping. That these changes will affect it radically goes without question. They have already affected it much.

The principal development so far is the hegira to the apartment-house. Apartment-house life will undoubtedly be one of the changes that woman's invasion of industry will bring about. But instead of living idly as many a woman does now who has taken to the apartment-house life, and throwing all the increased cost of living thus entailed on the husband, the woman of the future will continue in some gainful occupation after marriage and share the cost of living. The family will have their little home of several rooms, but the cooking of the meals and the care of the rooms will not devolve upon the wife. Trained cooks will prepare the food; vacuum cleaners and other progressive inventions will do the cleaning scientifically and economically. And the woman of the home will be left to minister entirely to the mental and moral needs of the children, or she will go into any business or profession she wishes and help provide the family income.

Where this is not possible, there may in time develop communal kitchens and dining-rooms. This will lessen the expense of housekeeping, for much unnecessary waste of labor and fuel and other things can be prevented. And supplies can be bought in quantity. The management can be in the hands of a person employed for the purpose who has been trained for this work. Or the housekeepers themselves can join together, portion out the work, and each do her share. There is more pleasure in working together than in working alone in the individual home. The comradeship and the jollity of this would do away with the monotony and loneliness so often brought against housekeeping. Rules could be made governing the conduct of such a kitchen, and the woman who would not hold up her end of the stick could be quietly voted out. Not many women, however, would fall down on their work under these conditions. Most women have pride enough to want to do their share.

Such work, too, would help eliminate the pettiness that is now a part of the feminine character. Many of the undesirable traits women are said to possess are simply the result of their past narrow environment and one-sided training. Let them get out into a big, broad work for the common good, and they would be just as capable of doing it as men are of conducting big enterprises.

And since men will not attend to their political duties as they should, if the burden of housekeeping is lifted from women and the right of suffrage given them, who knows but that in time they will take hold of the political question and run the politics of the country as they should be run?

Macaroni With Brown Sauce—Boil one-quarter of a pound of macaroni in plenty of boiling stock fifteen or twenty minutes or until tender. Drain in a colander. Melt and brown two tablespoonfuls of butter; add two tablespoonfuls of flour, mix until smooth and brown, then add the stock drained from the macaroni (there should be one pint). Stir continually until it thickens, add one tablespoonful of mushroom cut-up and the macaroni, stir until it is heated through; season and serve.

German Salad—One small head of cabbage, one large beet, six hard-boiled eggs. Cut the cabbage as fine as you would for slaw; season with salt and pepper. Place this on a flat dish, pile it quite high, and arrange around with alternating slices of boiled beet and hard-boiled eggs. Garnish the eggs (the bit with the delicate part of egg) with the small leaves. Do not stir the mixture with the vegetables, but lay the eggs twenty minutes. Wrap in a cloth from a pint of rich cream, and pour over the salad.

Doctors Failed to Cure Him—Goodhair Soap Did the Work in Three Days.

"For a long time I have suffered and been annoyed with a breaking out on the back of my hands. The doctors called it salt rheum. My hands were in such an awful condition I was ashamed to have them seen, so if I did not have a pair of old gloves on I would keep my hands in my pockets to prevent same attention. Consulted several doctors and tried a number of remedies without any good results. Mr. J. J. Baker of this city gave me two little samples of Goodhair Soap, requesting me to try it. The first application of the lather of this wonderful soap gave me benefit and in three days time my hands were entirely well."

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients.

POPULARITY OF E. M. F. "30" & FLANDERS "20"

Big Demand for These Cars at Local Garage and All Over the Country.

That this is to be a banner automobile year is evident on every side. Dealers everywhere are rapidly supplying the demand and the big factories are rushed with orders and working day and night.

The popularity of the E. M. F. "30" and "Flanders" "20" is greater than ever and the Auditorium Garage is having a big demand for these cars. Mr. Forsythe of this firm went to Columbus this morning to endeavor to get an extra car lot of cars. That all dealers handling these cars are experiencing this demand is shown by the following:

Assistant Sales Manager, Paul Smith, of the E. M. F. Company, makers of the E. M. F. "30" and Flanders "20," leaves Detroit this week on a 15,000 mile tour among E. M. F. agencies. This is one of the longest continuous "wheel around the circuit" ever mapped out by any motor car sales department. Mr. Smith's itinerary covers Denver, Indianapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Oklahoma City, Dallas, San Antonio, New York, Washington, New Orleans, Minneapolis, Columbus, Cleveland, Chicago, Atlanta, Memphis, Louisville and intervening territory.

He is not making this extended tour for the purpose of closing contracts for E. M. F. "30" or Flanders "20" cars, but to satisfy the clamorous dealers and explain to them personally why it is impossible, even with the E. M. F. Company's wonderful manufacturing facilities, to manufacture over night, as the dealers would like to have done, 42,000 cars which constitute the company's orders for 1911.

Messrs. Forsythe & McElwain are very proud of the feat accomplished by the Flanders "20," which covered 10,872 miles without stopping the motor, and now has recently made a climb up the San Jacinto Mountain, California, reaching an altitude of 6800 feet. The upper part of the mountain was covered with ice and snow, making the trip extremely hazardous, and the trip was made loaded with four passengers.

Among the cars to be delivered this month by the Auditorium Garage are the following well known people: Ed. Larson, the county clerk of Licking county, Clarence Baker of Johnstown, John Tyler of Johnstown, R. V. Sperry of Newark and Dr. Turner of Newark.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD

Lady Learned About Cardui, The Woman's Tonic and is Now Enthusiastic in its Praise.

Mount Pleasant, Tenn.—"Cardui is all you claim for it, and more," writes Mrs. M. E. Rail, of this place.

"I was a great sufferer for 2 years and was very weak, but I learned about Cardui, and decided to try it. Now I am in perfect health.

"My daughter, when changing into womanhood, got in very bad health. I gave her Cardui and now she enjoys good health.

"Cardui is worth its weight in gold. I recommend it for young and old."

Being composed exclusively of harmless vegetable ingredients, with a mild and gentle medicinal action, Cardui is the best medicine for weak, sick girls and women.

It has no harsh, powerful, near-poisonous action, like some of the strong minerals and drugs, but helps nature to perform a cure in a natural easy way.

AGAINST OLD METHODS.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 25.—"Every member gained by the Methodist Episcopal church in 1910 represented an expenditure of $1,000 and a property investment of $7,000," declared Rev. Dr. E. Blake of Chicago, in an address before a convention of Methodist Episcopal Sunday schools of the Columbia River conference in Spokane, which was attended by delegates from all the northwestern states.

"The Methodist Episcopal church is facing a serious situation," Dr. Blake added. "The net gain in members was only 41,237 in 1910, an increase of something over one per cent. This convinces me that the old methods of evangelism are not producing results. We have never had more evangelists than at the present time and they have never accomplished so little as now. The weakness of modern evangelism is that it makes its main appeal to adults, when it is a matter of fact that eighty-five per cent of all conversions are under eighteen years of age. The church must make its appeal to youth and the earlier this is made the better the result will be for the church."

BOYS' MEETING SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

The program for the boys' meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow promises to surpass anything that we have had so far this year. Last Sunday the subject was "Dreams and Duties" and 340 boys were present. The way the boys sang and paid attention showed their heart was in the meeting. The subject for tomorrow will be "Cravings and Character," and some 30 very beautiful slides will be shown. The address will be given by Rev. Mr. Bennett. The motion pictures will be fine. The meeting starts at 2 p. m. and we will have new hymns to sing, so every boy come out and sing the new hymns and enjoy the meeting. Every boy of Newark is heartily invited to attend these meetings.

Science Making Life Easy.
The small things in life are usually the most important—for example, a cake of poor soap may not only spoil the week's wash, and the temper of the housekeeper, but ruin valuable fabrics.

For twenty-five years we have spent a large sum of money educating people as to the soap situation, and it has paid us so far. We will continue the good health campaign and invite you most cordially to give Hewitt's Easy Task soap a trial, giving you the opportunity to do so on the most liberal basis we can offer. Buy two cakes from your grocer for ten cents, and if the first does not please you, return the other and get your money back. Is this good enough?

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Truthful Boy

"I have forty pieces of silver in my coat," said the boy.

DADDY, who tells stories to Jack and Evelyn every evening, is a good man and wants his children to be truthful always. One evening he told his two children an old, old story about a Persian boy who, like George Washington, always told the truth.

"This boy lived many, many years ago in Persia. When he was still quite a young boy he was very fond of studying. He lived in a little village far away from any city where he could find good teachers, so one day, after learning all that the village teacher could teach him, he asked his mother to let him go to the nearest big city to study further.

"His mother was quite willing. Before he set out she made him promise that whatever happened he would never tell a lie. Then she gave him money for his journey, and as she did not know when he would return to his home she gave him his share of the money which his father had left when he died. His share was forty pieces of silver, which his mother sewed up in the lining of his coat for safekeeping. Then she bade him goodbye, and he set out to join the caravan, or company of merchants, with which he was to travel.

"In those days traveling was very unsafe, for many robbers lay in wait along the road to rob caravans. That is what happened to this caravan. After the robbers had taken away the money of the merchants one of them turned to the boy.

"Have you any money? he asked, and the boy answered, 'Yes; I have forty pieces of silver sewed up in my coat.'

"The robber laughed, thinking the boy was joking. So he left the boy and passed on. To another robber the boy made the same reply.

"The two robbers talked together and had a good laugh at the boy who wanted to fool them by telling them he had so much money. The captain of the robbers overheard them laughing and asked them what the joke was, so they told him about the boy. Then the captain questioned the boy.

"I have already told two of you men how much money I have," answered the boy. The captain then ordered the boy's coat ripped open, when, of course, the money was found.

"How is it, boy," the robber asked, "that you told us the truth about this money when you might have saved it by lying to us?"

"Because I promised my mother never to tell a lie," was the boy's answer, and the robbers were so touched that they immediately resolved to become good men again instead of thieves."

A Happy Home-coming.
The husband who comes home from his daily toil, whether working for small or large pay, must appreciate the presence of a wife well groomed and restfully awaiting him, and children equally well groomed and showing every evidence of material care.

A woman does not need to be a slave to drudgery, but a happy home-builder. Hewitt's Easy Task soap is of the greatest help to this blessed condition, because it lessens the labor of keeping the home and all that pertains to it clean, wholesome and attractive. No friction to such a home. Five cents a cake.

FEAR SON IS CONFINED IN MEXICAN PRISON.
Pittsburg, Feb. 25.—Edwin M. Blatt, 21, formerly of Avalon, near here, is understood today to be in a Mexican jail at Juarez, sentenced to be shot on charges of conspiring against Diaz. The parents of the youth this morning were still without an answer from the state department to their telegrams sent last yesterday and definite information of his fate is still lacking.

The young man went to El Paso for his health, and the elder Blatt declares his son is in such a condition from lung trouble that he would not think of joining the insurgents. He charges that any accusations by the Mexicans are "rumored up."

QUANTRILL WAS PRINCIPAL IN AN OHIO SCHOOL

Famed Guerrilla a Resident of Canal Dover and Was a Shy Youth.

Canal Dover, Feb. 25.—William Clarke Quantrill, head of the band of guerrillas which spread terror throughout Kansas and Missouri before and during the civil war, was once principal of schools in Canal Dover. The building in which he taught is now being used as a public library. His father, Thomas Henry Quantrill, occupied the same position before him.

Many of the people who knew him in boyhood and went to school with him are still living here. These say he was diffident and reserved and would fight only if drawn into a quarrel. He was very fond of firearms and early became an expert marksman.

"Watch me make that pig squeal," he once said to one of his companions. He drew his gun and put a bullet hole through the ear of a pig many yards away.

He left Ohio and went to Mendota, Kansas, in the summer of 1855. He taught school there for several years and was in charge of a school as late as 1860. There is much evidence that he began sliding down the moral scale rapidly after going to Kansas. It was in June, 1860, that his mother received the last letter from him.

His entrance into the guerrilla field was marked by an act of treachery that has never been excelled. He and three companions planned to make a raid on Morcan Walker, a rich farmer of Jackson county, Mo. They meant to steal slaves and other property. Quantrill went ahead of the band to reconnoiter. He entered Walker's house, was hospitably entertained and ate supper. Instead of returning to his companions, he revealed the whole plot to Walker and his son and conducted them to the spot where his companions were concealed. The Walkers opened fire and one of the raiders was killed and two others wounded. They were afterwards hunted down and killed.

Following this incident Quantrill organized his band, and two of Walker's sons joined him. By December, 1860, he was at the head of a powerful band on the side of the south. In its prime the gang numbered not less than 300 men. They were nearly all young and well mounted. The first growth of timber in Missouri and Kansas had been cut away and the second growth formed an impenetrable thicket, called the chaparral, in which Quantrill and his men concealed themselves. They had names which none knew but themselves. For three years Quantrill and his band defied the whole power of the government in that quarter.

The mild, soft-spoken schoolmaster thus developed into a savage guerrilla, responsible for the loss of many lives. He once early in his career took 60 unarmed men from a train, stood them along the track and shot them dead.

The most wanton act of his life was the raid made on Lawrence, Kansas, in which he once lived. This occurred on the morning of Aug. 21, 1863. With 300 armed men he rode into the doomed town, and when they left 140 people had been killed in cold blood and 24 others wounded. One hundred and eighty-five houses had been burned, and the raiders carried off all the plunder they could take on their horses. Only one of the guerrillas lost his life.

Near the end of the war he reduced his band, taking the bolder of the single men with him. In the number were Jesse and Frank James, and Cole Younger. At the beginning in 1865 he and his men started east and it is believed by many that he was trying to reach to Lee to surrender with him at Richmond. May 10, 1865, Col. Terrell, at the head of some Union men, surprised the party in Spencer county, Ky. In trying to escape two of the men were killed and Quantrill mortally wounded. He died in the Louisville, Ky., United States military hospital June 6, 1865. He was buried in the cemetery of St. John's church at Louisville.

The body did not remain there, however, and the greater part of his skeleton is now at Canal Dover. It was taken from the grave by the late W. W. Scott at the request of Quantrill's mother, who wanted it brought to Canal Dover to be placed by the side of her husband.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP?

It Has Been Proved that Microbes Cause Baldness.

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the sebaceous glands, the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

We have a remedy which will, honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

We exact no obligations or promises—we simply ask you to give Rexall "93" Hair Tonic a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid for it. Two sizes, prices 50c and $1. Remember you can obtain it in Newark only at our store—The Rexall Store, Hall's Drug Store.

LOAN EXHIBIT TO BE HELD IN OLD M. E. CHURCH

LIBRARY BENEFIT PROMISES TO BE A VERY GREAT SUCCESS.

Soliciting Committees Announced. Everybody is Now Showing a Willingness to Help.

The managers of the Library Loan Exhibit are eager to gather every quaint, curious and interesting article that may be available. There are nine clubs and the ladies of the D. A. R. in charge of the loan exhibit. Below will be published a list of their soliciting committees, any one of whom will be glad to hear from those who may have articles to lend. There has already been such a ready and interested response to the call for loans that it was seen at once that the library rooms—where it was first planned to hold the exhibit—would be much too small. The basement of the old Methodist church, on the corner of Fourth and Church streets, has been now selected as the most central and convenient place for every one, from all parts of the city, to reach. The street cars stop directly in front of the door. Mr. A. J. Baldwin, the florist from East Newark, has very kindly donated to the loan exhibit the use of the building. The greatest care will be taken of every article. All small articles will be placed in glass cases and the larger ones will be put where they can't be marred by handling. Owners of articles are requested to write a few explanatory lines, telling the age, the use or whatever there is of interest connected with the article. The public will be amazed at the number of rare old things that have already been unearthed, and it is expected that during the next ten days so many more will come to light that the loan exhibit will be a veritable treasure house of wonders. The executive committee asks that representatives from all the soliciting committees—as well as any other ladies who have not been reached and who are interested and willing to help, meet with them Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Public Library. A request for the loan of show cases will be made to some of the prominent business firms next week. The business men who have already been approached for aid have been most generous in their responses. The following is the list of the soliciting committee:

From the Review Club—Mrs. J. B. Jones, 103 North Fourth street; Mrs. Edward Kibler, 179 Granville street; Mrs. Genevieve Forry, 451 West Main street.

From the Monday Talks—Mrs. Robert Davidson, corner Third and Church streets; Mrs. Ernest Johnson, 403 Hudson avenue; Mrs. Bradshaw, 508 Hudson avenue.

From the Procter Club—Mrs. Frank Fitzgibbon, 430 Hudson avenue; Mrs. A. C. Davis, 204 Hudson avenue; Mrs. F. M. Schimpf, 424 Hudson avenue.

From the Unity Reading Circle—Mrs. Howard Barrick, 223 Woods avenue; Mrs. Grant Burch, 60 North Fourth street; Miss Blanche Murphy, 534 West Main street.

From the Investigators Club—Mrs. John Pach, 568 North Fourth street; Miss Anna F. Orr, 429 Hudson avenue; Miss Mary B. Dicken, R. D. No. 5; Mrs. Eugene F. Ball, 29 Cling street; Mrs. Cyrus G. Nevins, 123 South Third street.

From the D. A. R.—Mrs. Rose Wilson, 131 North Fifth street; Mrs. Anna Hatch, 40 East Locust street; Mrs. C. L. Sturgeon, 78 North Fifth street.

From the Coterie Club—Mrs. Frank Agnew, 55 North Morris street; Mrs. Wm. Alsop, Mound Court; Mrs. P. J. Glancy, 61 Eighth street.

From the Progressive Club—Miss Mary Miller, 271 Church street; Mrs. George Franklin Jr., Hudson avenue; Mrs. W. E. Wright, 118 East Main street.

From the Research Club—Miss Helen Bower, 92 Chestnut street; Mrs. E. S. Randolph, 261 W. Church street; Miss Mabel Pugh, 18 Cedar street.

From the Photozetter Club—Miss Emma Ankele, 128 South Second street; Mrs. P. H. Cosner, 194 West Church street; Miss Kathryn Sutcliffe, 213 North street; Miss Ada Simms, 213 Hoover street.

What the March Woman's Home Companion Contains.

You will read all about the latest spring fashions in the March Woman's Home Companion. This always interesting and beautiful magazine has outdone itself in its presentation of the beauties and mysteries of my lady's spring wardrobe. Besides a complete description of the latest styles, there are dozens of illustrations of spring gowns and fabrics, many of them in color.

This number is also an exceptionally full, complete, and well-rounded-out general magazine, packed from cover to cover with bright stories, fascinating art features, music and verse, special articles, and helpful departments that go deeply into the heart of all household problems.

"The Flight of the Magic Carpet," a new motor story by C. N. and A. M. Williamson begins in this number. It is a highly entertaining tale of love and adventure written in the usual crisp, brilliant style of the Williamson. "The Magic Carpet" is the fanciful name of the automobile which plays an important part in the story. The fiction also includes instalments of Maude Radford Warren's exciting story, "In the Land of Tomorrow," and the last part of "The Admiral's Niece," by Kate Douglas Wiggin and her collaborators. Short stories in this number are contributed by such well-known authors as Mary Heaton Vorse, Fannie Heaslip Lea, Alice Brown and Gertrude King.

"What is Being Done in the Fight for Honest Weights and Measures" is a particularly timely article. It is a subject in which every homemaker, the country over, should take a keen and active interest. "How I Blundered as a Housekeeper," is the title of an article by Christine Terhune Herrick, in which she shows some of the pitfalls of housekeeping and puts a danger signal beside them. Gardner Teal reminds us that March is the time to start the Salad Garden.

A brilliant feature of the March Woman's Home Companion is the full color reproduction on rough art paper of a beautiful child painting by Hilda Belcher, the well-known water colorist. The picture is 11 by 16 inches in size, and is designed for framing.

According to the fish and game laws of Ohio, the winter of our discontent is about over. Next Wednesday marks the opening of the spring duck season. Along with the wild ducks, the lid will be lifted on the shooting of wild geese, rail, shore birds, plover, snipe, wild swan and mud hens. The season will close April 20.

Because of the present cold weather ducks are not expected to be plentiful the opening week of the season, though several flocks of the birds were seen during the warm weather of last week. Hundreds of hunters in this city are looking forward to the spring shooting season and are all prepared for a good season. Many will spend the opening day at Buckeye Lake, where it is expected that the game will be plentiful if it is anywhere.

SENT WOMAN HOME TO CARE FOR HER BABY. Mayor Ankele today gave Mrs. John Walker, who was arrested in Zanesville with William Freeman, with whom she eloped to that city, a suspended sentence, and sent her home to the care of her three-year-old baby that she had abandoned. Freeman was discharged, as nothing could be charged against him, under conditions that he leave town immediately.

They were brought to Newark on Friday afternoon by Officer Lewis Swinehart.

THE LODGES

Odd Fellows. Olive Branch Lodge, No. 34, I. O. O. F. met in regular session on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21, with a good attendance of the members. After the regular routine business had been transacted, the initiatory degree was conferred on two candidates, and one application for membership was received. This lodge has been doing good work during the past winter and those who have failed to attend have been missing a whole lot. Visiting brothers are always welcome at the meetings of this lodge.

M. O. C. of the World. The Canals are here. Monarch Lodge, No. 103, was instituted Tuesday evening with a large membership and with fine prospects for future advancement. The work was put on by the degree team from Cleveland, which was fine in every respect, and was certainly a great credit to the Canals of Cleveland and all who were fortunate enough to witness it were greatly pleased. The supreme eminent ruler and the supreme secretary were present and added to the occasion. Monarch Temple will meet Friday evening, March 3, in the hall of Newark Lodge, No. 13, Knights of Pythias. All members are urged to be present as officers will be elected and other matters of importance will be attended to. Don't forget the date, Friday, March 3.

Knights of Columbus. The Knights of Columbus will hold a regular meeting next Monday evening, Feb. 27, which will be called promptly at 8 p. m.

Brother W. M. Mumm of Columbus Council, No. 400, will be present at this meeting and give the brothers a short talk and it is hoped that there will be a large crowd present.

Knights of Columbus Card Party. Tuesday night, Feb. 28, the K. of C. will entertain with a card party at their hall. Euchre and refreshments.

Modern Woodmen. Cedar Camp, No. 4727, met in regular session Monday evening. Seven applications for membership and one by card were received and elected. Carey L. Wilson was adopted as a beneficial member. A letter was received from Cashocott Camp inviting the officers and team to visit them Thursday night, March 23, and put on the work. The invitation was accepted and preparations are being made for the trip. Any member of the camp who desires to go is cordially invited. A neighbor was present from Washington and made a short talk. Monday night, March 6, the officers and team of Buckeye Camp of Zanesville will visit Cedar Camp to put on the work. A class will be adopted and refreshments will be served. All neighbors elected delegates or alternates to the county camp to be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at M. W. of A. hall will receive a postal card notice to attend the meeting and all are requested to be present.

Royal Neighbors. Daisy Camp met Feb. 22 with a large attendance. One hour was devoted to the business of the camp, and the rest of the evening was shared in a social time by the Royal Neighbors and their families. A good time was enjoyed by all. The camp wishes to extend thanks to all who took part in any way toward the entertainment. Four neighbors from Hebron Camp were present. The next regular meeting will be held March 8 and refreshments will be served.

Knights of Pythias. The last meeting of Roland Lodge, No. 305, was marked by the transaction of a great deal of important business, chief of which was the passing of an amendment to the by-laws lowering the fee of admission by transfer card. Another matter was the sub-letting of the hall to the other Knights of Pythias bodies of the city, Newark Lodge, No. 13, the Uniform Rank and the Pythian Sisters. This was brought about by the fact that they are compelled to leave their present quarters in the Carroll building, formerly owned by Hilbert & Schaus. This again brings up the much-debated question of a K. of P. building of our own. It is hoped that matters will so shape themselves that this dream will be realized at no distant date in the future.

Next Tuesday night we will hold another of our open meetings, under the auspices of our rally committee who have arranged a fine program of entertainment. This meeting is for the members and their families and prospective members and friends of the order. You are all cordially invited and requested to be present. The regular lodge work will be over by 8 o'clock and the program will commence shortly thereafter. Our entertainment committee will look after the inner man following the program.

Musicians' Union. The Musicians' Union will meet tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock in Labor Hall. Business of importance to be transacted. All members be present.

HEREDITY Can Be Overcome in Cases. The influence of heredity cannot, of course, be successfully disputed, but it can be minimized or entirely overcome in some cases by correct food and drink. A Conn. lady says: "For years while I was a coffee drinker I suffered from bilious attacks of great severity, from which I used to emerge as white as a ghost and very weak. Our family physician gave me various prescriptions for improving the digestion and stimulating the liver, which I tried faithfully, but without perceptible result."

"He was acquainted with my family history for several generations back, and once when I visited him he said: 'If you have inherited one of those torpid livers you may always suffer more or less from its inaction. We can't dodge our inheritance, you know.'"

"I was not so strong a believer in heredity as he was, however, and beginning to think for myself, I concluded to stop drinking coffee and see what effect that would have. I feared it would be a severe trial to give it up, but when I took Postum and had it well made, it completely filled my need for a hot beverage, and I grew very fond of it."

"I have used Postum for 3 years, using no medicine. During all that time I have had absolutely none of the bilious attacks I used to suffer from, and I have been entirely free from the pain and debilitating effects that used to result from them. The change is surely very great, and I am compelled to give Postum the exclusive credit or it." Name given by Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The E-M-F "30"

The car that has revolutionized the automobile industry and made the high priced automobile a fad.

E-M-F "30" Touring Car $1000

An analysis of the vital question---how long will the car last?

Human life has been measured and averaged. Three score years and ten is the well-known formula covering the wear and tear of flesh and blood. Life Insurance Companies have scaled the years of man and tabulated his length of days to a scientific nicety.

How long will it last? This question of durability is asked of everything that has motion—whether it be animal or machine. Living in an enquiring age, small wonder the life of a motor car should be of compelling interest, for this modern miracle of travel, pleasure and utility holds the center of the world's stage.

The Public—The Dealer—the Manufacturer—each from a particular point of view, wants to know how long a standard automobile will stand up and give service under specific test.

The Public spends dollars and cents in purchase and maintenance upon this information. The Dealer anticipates his sales, guards his own and customers' knowledge upon this knowledge. The Manufacturer wants exacting proof of his car's strength to protect his name and fame and to govern future production, so the most important question in the buying, selling and making of automobiles is this—

How long will the car I buy—the car I sell—the car I make—LAST?

With most Manufacturers this is a question that cannot even be comparatively answered. And, right here there is a reason which every intending buyer of an automobile should investigate. So, we pass the tip along. Find out whether the car you intend buying is what is known to the wise as an "assembled" car.

The automobile scrap heap stretches from the Atlantic to the Pacific—from the Arctic Zone to the Gulf of Mexico and it is safe to say there is a million "sadder" but "wiser" people who have found out to their cost, what the word "assembled" means.

So the life of your car depends upon how it is built. Forget the price, for the "juggled together" car may cost anywhere up to $5,000 and over, but insist upon this: that the car you buy, is built from the raw material to the finished product, by the one engineering organization, from foundry to shipping platform, backed by an irrefutable guarantee covering for at least a year, every particle of equipment, tires excepted.

"Where can I buy such a car?" Do you mean to say there is an automobile concern that makes its own castings—heat-treats its own steel—tests in physical and chemical laboratory, every factor that is necessary to build a perfect chassis? Why, that kind of a car would be the "lasting" car, the biggest because the best seller in the world.

Now, we are getting into the heart of the matter. Friend, you're right and we will tell you what car to buy and why you should buy.

THE E-M-F COMPANY, in a little over two years, has built, equipped and sold 20,000 E-M-F "30" cars. These automobiles have gone out over the land and unto the utter-most parts of the earth, for durability, speed and power tests such as no one single make of car has ever endured, and every one of the 20,000 owners is an enthusiastic "booster." This is the "one" car that sells itself and creates its own demand. A second-hand E-M-F "30" is unknown, because nowhere can you find such automobile value and we challenge comparison—

Your comparison—expert comparison—quality and price comparison.

The chassis of an E-M-F "30" is an engineering marvel. It is a composite of mechanical genius. There is not an ounce of experimental fad in it or gilded furbelow to catch and charm the eye of the unwary and filch dollars from his pocketbook. The E-M-F "30" is built for power, purpose and long life, to perform any and every motor task—and it does it.

Immediately you guess something we mean to drive home. The E-M-F "30"—the whole car—is made by the E-M-F Company. And, if as you read, we could transport you to our $7,000,000 plants and you could stand in the glow of furnace fires or amid the whirl of automatic machinery, milling, grinding and cutting to the infinitesimal fraction of an inch, this would impress upon your mind the eloquent truth: Here is a car built to last and serve.

Only a little over two years old. How can we tell "How long the car will last?" It is not the revolution, but the friction which wears out machinery. Everybody knows that—but The E-M-F Company conscious of a superiority in the quality of their product over cars selling at double and treble the price, have tried to wear out an E-M-F "30."

With deliberate intent for this purpose they choose one of the first cars built in their factory, "Bullet," and crowded into its two years of life fifteen years of the hardest possible service—on the racetrack, at speed which in one meeting netted eight wins. Over hills, upon the road, through sand, mud and water, demonstrating, path-finding, carrying surplus passenger loads—in fact, every possible test of reliable durability was applied to satisfy our curiosity.

Seventy-three thousand miles is the present mileage of this epoch-making car and it is as good as on the day it was wheeled out upon our shipping platform some two years ago, the most remarkable and convincing argument ever presented to the public—an argument that is attracting world-wide attention among buyers and dealers, for it has placed The E-M-F Company at the pinnacle of motor car construction and proven beyond cavil or question, our oft-reiterated statement that in design, materials and workmanship, the E-M-F "30" chassis is the most envied ensemble of mechanical perfection extant.

We have proved the E-M-F "30" to be long-lived and that brings us to another declaration—it is the safest and biggest dividend-earning investment for you in motordom—when you buy an E-M-F "30," speculation is eliminated. You put your money in a certainty. The car that lasts is the car that pays. That's a simple business proposition and an E-M-F is the 100 per cent car. If you went to any one of the 20,000 owners of an E-M-F and tried to buy it, it's a safe bet the man would ask you almost what he paid for it, even if he bought it two years ago. Just scan the dealer's sales lists in any of the motor journals and see whether you can find a used E-M-F "30" for sale. You don't have to be a mathematician to figure out what this means.

$1,000 the price and you cannot buy, because it isn't made, any car to compare with this 30 Horse-Power Master-piece. There's no Black Art in the "how" it is done. Here's the chain of events behind it—an ideal to build as good or better a car than the other fellow who asks anywhere from $1,500 up to $2,500 and over. Then coralling the brains to do it. Then the car. Then the merits of the car creating a huge demand. Then an adequate plant and machinery to meet the demand. Then the distribution of cost of manufacture over immense quantities, instead of a limited number of cars, bringing the price within the reach of the most moderate income, and, moreover, offering a car as good as "across the water kind."

The automobile industry saw its inception in 1898. Many manufacturers are now bragging about the number of cars they have sold, but they don't state how many years it has taken them to sell them. Where can you find such rapid growth in public favor and appreciation as the E-M-F Company's cars? The proof is in the number we have sold, and the time in which we sold them. In a little over two years nearly 30,000 E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" automobiles have been made in our plants, and we shall make and sell 36,000 more this year.

Now, a word about what the high quality and low price of the E-M-F "30" have accomplished. They have pricked the bubble of inflated values and literally forced rival manufacturers to give more dollar for dollar value. The newspapers have been filled of late with the significant headlines—"Reduction in Price." What does this mean? Simply this, that the purchaser had not been getting his money's worth.

We took the public into our confidence. We told them how we made a world-beating quality car and sold it at rock bottom, with standard equipment for $1,250. This price created consternation in the camp of our rivals, but so great was the demand for the E-M-F "30" that the cost of production was further distributed. At one stroke we slashed off $250 and now this "30" horse power Standard Touring Car is $1,000. We are justly proud of our achievement.

Our Year's Guarantee is the interesting reading to the prospective purchaser. It is a liberal service insurance, covering the car and its equipment for one year. This guarantee is really unnecessary, as we have hundreds of letters from owners proudly stating that their E-M-F "30" has stood, not only the test of time, but every condition that can possibly be expected of an automobile—and more.

AUTOMOBILE SERVICE INSURANCE

Once upon a time there was a man who bought a home and failed to insure it. The home caught fire and the man lost the savings of years.

We pity the man and his plight. But at the same time we recognize a mental fault which clearly places on him the blame for his own misfortune.

The man had a friend who bought a motor car and failed to note the guarantee under which the car was sold. This owner of the car was loudest in his condemnation of the lack of foresight possessed by the man whose house had burned down.

Yet the man who bought the motor car and the man who bought the house were equally deficient in the lack of protection they had given their investments. Each had purchased something from which he expected a definite service. Each had failed to make it his first concern that that service should be properly guaranteed.

Automobile service insurance is a vital point in your selection of a motor car. It has become an increasingly vital point, as the cars of each year have lost individuality and grown more and more alike. Its absence or presence should be sufficient to determine choice between two cars which, to the man unskilled in mechanics seem practically identical.

Most manufacturers guarantee their cars for 90 days and supplement this service-insurance with salesmen oratory.

The E-M-F Company guarantees its cars for ONE YEAR. And the guarantee bond applies equally to car and equipment. Defect in material or workmanship will immediately be made good.

Read the E-M-F Company's sample guarantee. Study it carefully. It contains no evasive wording—no lack of sincerity. It is a plain, definite promise. And it means what it says. Back of that promise is the seven
